Introduction

Seattle is made up of many neighborhoods that offer a variety of features and characteristics. The Housing Choice Voucher Program's goal is to offer you and your family the choice to move into a neighborhood that will provide opportunities for stability and self-sufficiency. This voucher can open the door for you to move into a neighborhood that you may not have been able to afford before.

The Seattle Neighborhood Guide provides information and guidance to families that are interested in moving to a neighborhood that may offer a broader selection of schools and more opportunities for employment. Within the Neighborhood Guide, you will find information about schools, parks, libraries, transportation and community services. While the guide provides great information, it is not exhaustive. Learn more about your potential neighborhood by visiting the area and researching online.

Walk, Bike and Transit Score Key

Walk, transit (bus and Link Light Rail) and bike scores offer a general idea of transportation accessibility around the area without a personal car. Each score is an average of the area; walkability will vary from neighborhood to neighborhood. If you are interested in a specific location, visit walkscore.com and enter in the address to see the neighborhood walk score.

TIPS: Housing Inspections

seattlehousing.org

Initial Inspection

Occurs after you submit a Request for Tenancy Approval (RFTA) to move into a new unit. Your unit must meet Housing Quality Standards (HQS) prior to moving in and receiving Housing Assistance Payment (HAP).

Annual Inspection

Every year your home will be inspected by an HQS Inspector to ensure your unit is decent, safe and sanitary. If your unit fails inspection, you and your housing provider will be notified of deficiencies and be scheduled for a re-inspection. Your unit may qualify for a biennial inspection if it passes inspection for two consecutive annual inspections.

Ten Common Causes of Failed Inspections

1. Utilities are turned off at the time of inspection.
2. Gas or oil furnaces are not operating.
3. Appliances are not working properly or having missing parts.
4. The only smoke detector on any given level of a unit is located in a kitchen.
5. Smoke detectors are not located near sleeping areas, on all levels, or in a common laundry room.
6. Smoke detectors are not working properly.
7. Light switch cover plates are broken or missing.
8. Junction boxes or electrical panels are open, exposing wires and wire connections.
9. Hot water tanks do not have a pressure/temperature relief valve and discharge line.
10. Plumbing fixtures leak or drains or plugged.

TIPS: Portability Information

seattlehousing.org/housing

Porting Out of Seattle?

Seattle Housing Authority (SHA) voucher holders must lease in Seattle city limits for your first year on the program before a request may be made to port out. No money should be owed to SHA and you must be current on your public utility bills.

Before You Port Out:

1. Contact the housing authority in which you would like to be ported. Ask about their current voucher payment standard and about their porting process. Processing time may vary from housing authorities.
2. Call the SHA Move with Continued Assistance (MWCA) line at 206.239.1592 and let us know your name, contact information and a move-out date.
3. SHA will contact you within 10 business days regarding your request to move and port out.
4. Give yourself at least 30 days to process your move request and get issued a new voucher if you are moving within the Seattle area and 60 days if you are moving out of Seattle.

Porting to Seattle?

If you are porting to Seattle from another housing authority, you must contact the Portability Certification Specialist by email at portgroup@seattlehousing.org or phone 206.239.1640.

Before you consider Seattle:

1. Call us to hear about our current voucher payment standards and utility estimates.
2. Check our map to make sure Seattle is the right housing authority for you. Our agency only services Seattle city limits.
3. Ask us about the porting process and how long it may take to process your paperwork at SHA.
4. Contact your housing agency (that issued your voucher) and tell them you would like to port the voucher to Seattle.
5. Once your paperwork is received, SHA will process the information and re-issue you a voucher to use in Seattle.

SHA is billing for port ins from western Washington and Alaska, but is absorbing all others.
